Android phone setup (Metropolia Staff)

Why didn't my new phone come with a charger?

Manufacturers no longer include chargers with new phones because, in most cases, the charger from your previous phone will also work with the new one. If you don't have a charger left over from your previous phone or a compatible charging cable, you can contact Helpdesk using the contact information provided below. Helpdesk will provide you with a new charging cable or charger.

You can also mention your charger requirement in the additional information field of your procurement request.
