"If you can share it, you can sell it.

We want to democratize the ability to sell stuff online. You're a creative person; you create a lot of content. But most of it sits, archived, on some computer somewhere for the rest of time.

It's either too hard, or too time-consuming, or it doesn't even make sense to put in a store! We let you easily sell the stuff you haven't been able to, yet."
